

JAMAICA 2915

Description

A collection of seating inspired by Bar Jamaica in Milan's Via Brera, a legendary hub for intellectuals and artists in the twentieth century. In Jamaica armchair, the warmth of the ash plywood used on the legs, with a variable thickness, and the shell, featuring a central lumbar support, is masterfully paired with the tubular steel Ø16 mm backrest, which adds a subtle chromatic element.

The collection guarantees maximum customisation thanks to the different finishes of the backrest combined with the shell and legs, which can be matching or contrasting with each other.
